THE ANDES QUITO AND SURROUNDINGS

LATITUDE 0° 0' 0"

The cultural heritage of Quito, Ecuador's capital, is of such importance, that it was the world's first city to be declared a UNESCO "World Heritage Cultural Site" back in 1978.

10

Quito showcases the most important and best-preserved colonial center in Latin America. Churches bathed in gold, convents constructed with massive hand-carved baroque doors, entire city blocks of Spanish-style villas featuring charming geranium-filled balconies and hidden courtyards, this city is truly an amazing place.

The Equatorial Line (from which the country derives its name) is celebrated by an ethnographic museum, interpretive centers, handicraft shops, and restaurants. Enjoy posing for a photo with one foot in the southern hemisphere and the other in the north!

PAPALLACTA & ANTISANA VOLCANO

12

Natural thermal springs surrounded by paramo, primary elfin forests of Polylepis trees, rivers and lagoons await you less than two hours east of Quito as a resting spot on the way to the Amazon. Close by lies the Antisana reserve, taking its name from the imposing Antisana Volcano, the fourth-highest snow-capped mountain of Ecuador, that stands proudly as its centerpiece. Home to the emblematic Condor, (Vultur gryphus) more and more frequent sightings are now possible with continuing conservation efforts. Within the area we can find a wealth of both endemic and native species of Andean flora and fauna.

OTAVALO & THE CHASKI ROUTE

Imbabura is known as the ‘Land of lakes’. On the way from Quito, you can see snow-capped volcanoes such as Cayambe or the dramatic Mount Imbabura that guards the entrance to Otavalo. Where is the largest indigenous market in South America.

The ‘Chaski Route’ takes us to the far north where we can visit Salinas de Ibarra, an Afro-Ecuadorian

KARANKI MAGDALENA INDIGENOUS COMMUNITY

The Karanki Magdalena community project, promotes cross-cultural experiences for travelers from around the globe. Magdalena, a rural highland village, is home to the Karanki culture, Go Galapagos-Kleintours has set up an interactive community tourism experience, where guests may participate in the everyday activities of the community. We offer a variety of outdoor excursions or overnight stays in family homes, an innovative combination of comfort and authentic living.

THE AVENUE OF THE VOLCANOES

Heading south of Quito, our drive takes us along the “Avenue of the Volcanos” passing fertile, inter-Andean, valleys and small towns surrounded by an amazing highland landscape dotted with a string of snow-capped mountains and active volcanos.

CUENCA

Cuenca, where locals ‘sing’ as they talk in their uniquely Cuencan melodic speech. The city was declared by UNESCO as a ‘World Cultural Heritage Site’ in recognition of its perfectly preserved colonial architecture and historic churches. A visit to the Inca ruins of Ingapirca, the northern headquarters of the Incan empire, or the towns of Gualaceo and Chordeleg, are included in our excursion and definitely not be missed.

THE AMAZON JUNGLE

Ecuador’s rainforest is one of the most exuberant in the world yet at the same time, one of the most accessible and hospitable. This lush, verdant is home to nearly 600 species of birds, close to 200 species of animals and approximately 83 species of reptiles (including huge anacondas) equating to one of the most diverse ecosystems”

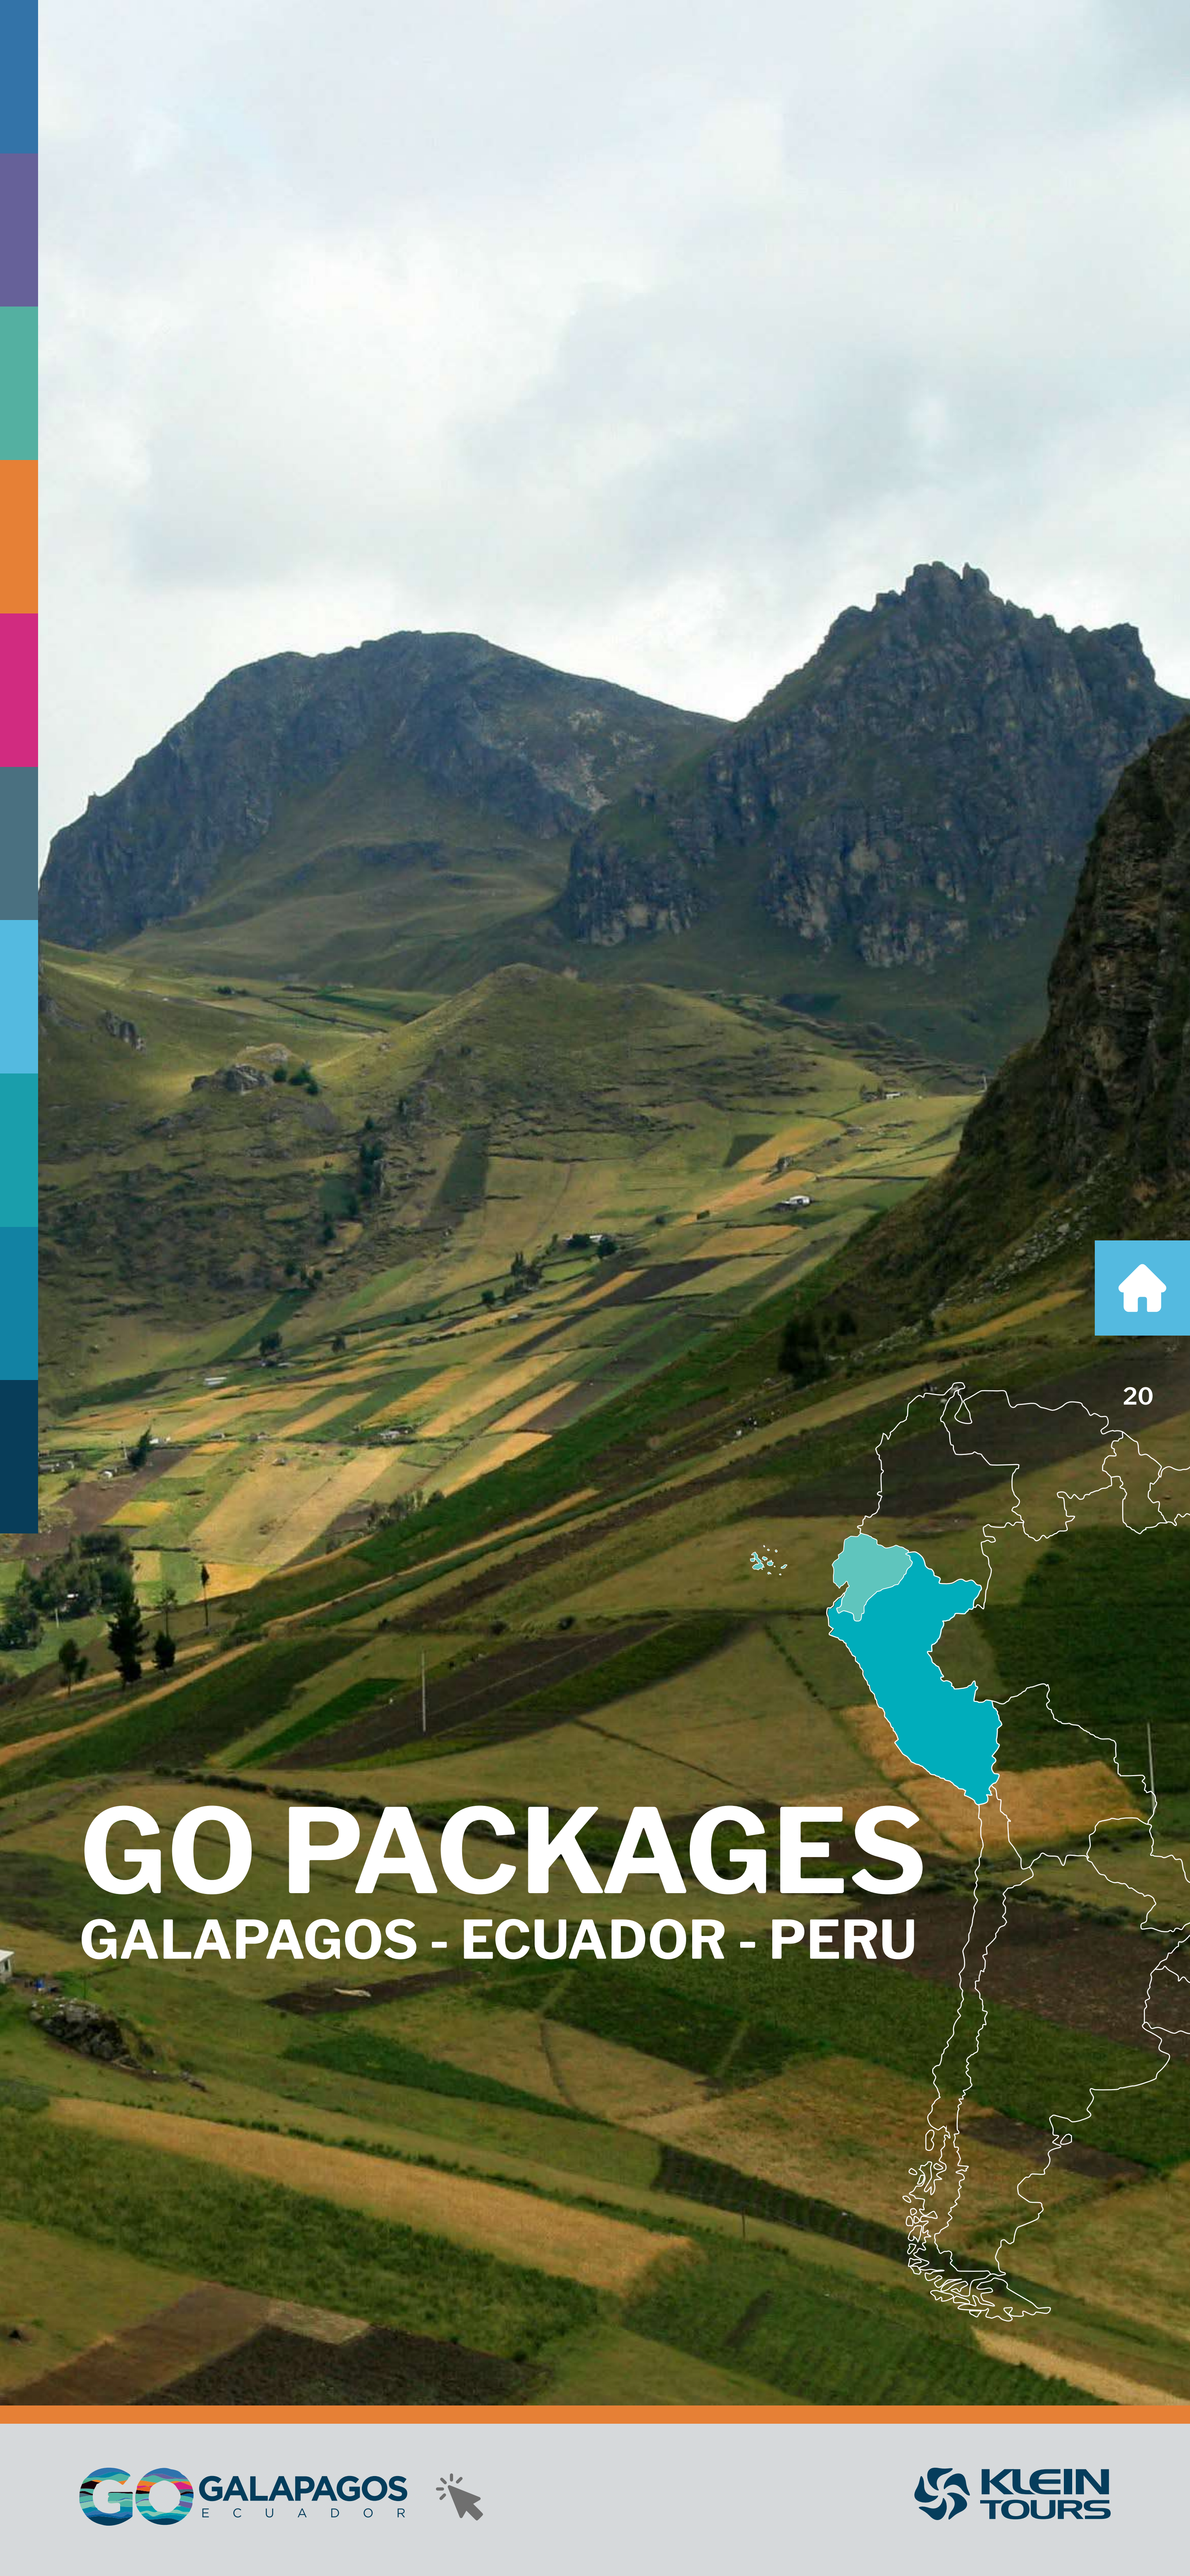

THE PACIFIC COAST GUAYAQUIL

It is the principle port of Ecuador, sometimes referred to as the ‘Pearl of the Pacific’. The main attractions are the “Malecón 2000”, Parque Centenario (a centrally located park full of green iguanas) and “Las Peñas” neighborhood, which was an original Spanish settlement. In all of these very social spots, you can find a variety of restaurants offering exquisite local dishes, entertainment venues, bars, shops, museums and attractive riverfront landscapes.
